Second Sunday of Lent

The Lectionary for Mass

First Reading: The First Readings for the remaining Sundays of Lent are accounts of the blessings that God bestows on the chosen people. Today God directs Abram to leave his homeland and journey to a new land. God promises that great blessings will accompany Abram and his family. These blessings are many. Abram's offspring will be a great nation; and he will be a source of blessing for others for "all the communities of the earth shall find blessing in you." Abram's response was an act of unconditional faith. Responsorial Psalm 33: The psalmist sings with great praise of the attributes of Lord who is trustworthy, just, and kind. He looks with favor upon those who fear him. The praise of the psalmist is on behalf of the whole people. Just as the providence of the Lord embraces the whole people so it is the soul of the people that waits for the Lord. This sense of the people being as one and the Lord as their God is a mark of the covenant; it is not a personal relationship between God and the individual, but between God and the community. Second Reading: The Second Readings for the Sundays of Lent include various instructions and exhortations for the early Christians. The central thread of these passages is the grace that has come from God through Jesus Christ. Paul reminds the "beloved: that their salvation has been won by Christ Jesus and not by any works that they have done. While it is good for us to engage in good works during Lent, indeed at any time, these works, however laudable, are not guarantors of our salvation. They are expressions of our gratitude for what the Lord has done for us. Gospel: The account of the Transfiguration has all the marks of a biblical theophany, a self-revelation of God. The voice from the clouds, the fear of the bystanders and the mountain site are indications of a divine-human encounter. The voice from the cloud, understood to be God's, repeats the proclamation from Jesus' baptism. It is in sharp contrast to the mocking of the tempter in last Sunday's Gospel proclamation. But today, Jesus' mission and identity are affirmed; he will continue to Jerusalem and to his Death and Resurrection. We will walk with him in these Lenten days.

Archdiocesan Planning Study Update

As many of you may know, Archbishop Sartain has been working to address several challenges facing the archdiocese. Over the next several weeks, everyone in our archdiocese is invited to take part in a planning study. The purpose of the study is to gather parishioner feedback regarding several archdiocesan-wide needs related to funding of retirement for clergy and religious, as well as local parish needs.

To participate in this important study, please go online to www.seattlearchdiocese.org and click on the "Planning Study Survey" link under the Archdiocesan Events and Activities section to learn more and provide comments. Use password: Catholic.

Thank you for taking your valuable time to provide the archdiocese with your feedback.

St. Edward School's Multicultural Celebration and Silent Auction

Grab your sweetheart or gather your friends together and join us for a fun night at St. Edward School's Multicultural Celebration and Silent Auction. The Celebration will take place in the St. Edward Parish Hall on Saturday, March 25th from 6 to 10 pm. Our theme this year is "We Are One Under the Stars." Tickets for this 21 & over event are $25 per person and include dinner, drink, entertainment, DJ and dancing. For tickets, visit www.saintedwardseattle.org and to purchase a table for ten for only $200 email Megan Kraman at megan.kraman@gmail.com.

Thank you for your generous support of last week's Catholic Home Missions Appeal. Your contributions will help strengthen the Church at home and ensure that the Gospel is spread across the United States.
